

Climate Change in Micronesia

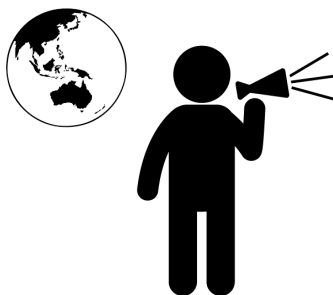

Community Actions

How to take action in your community:

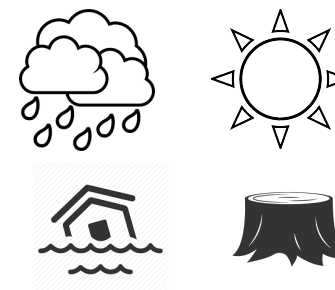

Organize a community group that will work to prepare for climate change

Spread the word about how climate change will impact your community

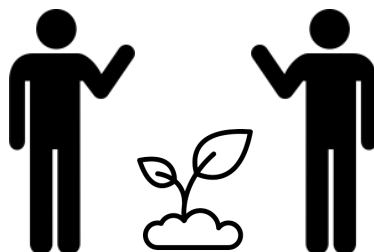

Identify the main threats or problems your community is facing

Identify actions your community can take & make a plan to address the main threats or problems*

Work together to start actions your community can do themselves

Reach out for support from local groups and organizations, if needed

*If available, you can refer to the other Fact Sheets, the LEAP Workbook, and short resource videos to help with your community planning process.
